Learning Intention:

To know about...

- The story of The Three Little Pigs
- Different types of materials: straw, sticks, bricks
- Transition / growing up

Synopsis:

- You begin as Baby Pig, Mum tells you and your siblings you must leave home and look after yourselves.
- You're nervous, but you pack your bags and leave with Brother Pig & Sister Pig.
- You find a nice field to settle on, but each of you wants to build your house using different materials.
- Brother Pig makes a house of straw, Sister Pig makes a house of twigs, and you make a house of bricks.
- You become the Big Bad Wolf and blow down the first two houses; the pigs run to the house of bricks.
- You start to climb up the brick house to enter through the chimney.
- You become Baby Pig and decide to light a fire to trap the wolf.
- You become the fire, getting hotter and hotter, as the pigs place a pot of water on top of you.
- The wolf falls in the boiling pot of water; you become Baby Pig again and celebrate with your siblings.

Discussion:

Story & Factual

- What did Baby Pig take from home to help in the forest?
- What dangerous things could have happened when the pigs were walking in the forest?
- What different materials did the pigs use to build their houses?
- What words would you use to describe each material?
- What material are most houses and buildings made of today?
- Why is it important to have a strong house?
- What did the pigs find inside the toolbox to help them stop the wolf?
- How can matches be dangerous?

PSHE & Philosophical

- Why did Mummy Pig want the pigs to leave home?
- How would you feel if you had to leave home and look after yourself?
- When is a good time to start looking after yourself? Should you be a certain age, or have certain skills?
- Would you have let the Big Bad Wolf fall inside the pot of water? What else could you do?
- Who are the people that can help us when we find ourselves in dangerous situation?
